

Bachelor of Advanced Business (Honours)

An internationally recognised 4-year program for ambitious students who want to lead in business and consulting.

Why study advanced business at UQ?

This program combines advanced coursework with industry-focused projects to equip you with the research rigour and problem solving depth employers expect from graduate program hires. During 7 cohort-exclusive core courses, you'll build mastery in analytics, finance, economics and leadership. In your final year, you'll complete a capstone project as part of your chosen major, turning theory into board-level recommendations for real clients.

Prepare for a thriving career in:

Management consulting

Banking

Investment and wealth management

High-growth corporates

Analytics and technology

Accounting

"I chose this program because I wanted an accelerated degree that would increase my employability. I valued the broad aspect of the degree, which has developed my skills across the whole business field, from HR and accounting to marketing. Being able to select from a range of majors and pick more than one provided me with a lot of flexibility. Through my majors, I went in-depth and built technical skills directly relevant to my career."
